

User Points

You can gain points by creating content, commenting on existing content or joining a group.

Your user points will be shown in your user profile as well as the reason for gaining the points. Your points will appear on your user name which is on the site next to your content.

Source URL: <https://community.jisc.ac.uk/library/janet-website-how/user-points>