File Sync and Share

Please be aware that this service ended on 10 July 2016 and is now closed to new purchases. Any agreements that were set up under the framework prior to the expiry date, will continue until their agreed end date.

We're currently gathering requirements for a replacement service that reflects users' changing requirements: Secure File Sync & Collaboration service

It would be really helpful if you could let us know what aspects of the previous File Sync & Share service were unappealing and may have stopped you from using the service. Any type of feedback about the previous service would help to inform the procurement of the new service.

Many thanks,
