

v-scene

video collaboration service

Using v-scene to bring together videoconferencing technologies for your conversations is as simple as making a phone call, but is more effective and productive. Communicate easily with who you need to, when you want to, without any fuss.

- Seamless integration

Operating almost anywhere - on mobile devices, at your desk, in multipurpose rooms or dedicated suites - enabling you to communicate with just about anyone. v-scene helps you break the boundaries imposed by proprietary systems and reach a wider audience

- Intuitive interface

Through simple design you will be able to manage your video conversations easily with features such as scheduling, starting a conversation and recording

- Improved efficiency

Save money and improve your environmental credentials by removing the costs and carbon emissions associated with travel, while increasing your productivity by spending less time out of the office or classroom

- Reliability

High quality delivery every time, whether on a low bandwidth mobile connection or with the full power of the Janet network behind your call, with the reassurance of optional automated testing before your meeting
